PROJECTS

Interactive Web Application Demonstrating Design Principles, Group Project

September 2025 – December 2025

- Designed and developed an interactive educational website explaining design principles (Contrast, Repetition, Alignment, Proximity) using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, PHP, and MySQL.
- Created a database-backed comment system, allowing users to submit, retrieve, and display content dynamically.
- Implemented interactive JavaScript elements to dynamically demonstrate correct and incorrect UI design patterns.
- Collaborated in a team to prototype, design, and create the application.

Legacy Web App Migration, The Raymond Corporation Internship

January 2024 – August 2024

- Converted legacy web applications from ColdFusion to JavaServer Faces (JSF), HTML5, and Java, removing reliance on ColdFusion licensing and saving the company recurring subscription fees.
- Refactored frontend web pages into reusable JSF components and created easy to navigate layouts with HTML and CSS.
- Collaborated with senior web application developers to ensure the original functionality and smooth transition to business logic from ColdFusion to Java.

WORK EXPERIENCE

The Raymond Corporation – Information Technology Intern

August 2022 – August 2025

Web Application Developer

Greene, NY

- Developed and maintained several internal web applications using HTML, CSS, Java, JavaServer Faces (JSF), JUnit, Microsoft PowerApps + Power Automate to cater to the company's needs.
- Worked to create apps that monitor the risk of a cyber threat for each department.
- Developed professional skills in the workplace by collaborating with others and attending meetings, both in person and online.

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

RIT Swim Club – Treasurer

January 2025 – Present

- Managed an annual budget and maintained accurate financial records for a club with 40+ members.
- Collected club dues, tracked expenses, and ensured compliance with RIT's policies and procedures.
- Collaborated with other officers and clubs to travel to away competitions.
